

Labor Board Rebukes Union Chiefs in Announcing New Wage Slash of $27,000,000

DENIES CHARGE IT DISREGARDED PLEA OF "LIVING WAGE"

"Old System of Bluff and Bluster"
Responsible for "Extreme Utterances" of Labor Leaders

325,000 Men Hit

New Cut Will Affect 209,000
Clerks and 100,000 Station
Employees, Board Announces

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago, June 16. — Pruning nearly $27,000,000 from the annual pay roll of 325,000 railroad employees by cutting clerks, signalmen and stationary firemen from two to six cents an hour, the United States Railroad Labor board today announced another wage slash, bringing total reductions under the board's orders up to $135,000,000 beginning July 1.

Clerks were cut three and four cents an hour, according to classification; signalmen, five cents, and firemen two cents.

Labor Members Dissent.

A dissenting opinion, protesting against any reduction, was included in the decision. It was signed by Arthur C. Wharton and Albert Phillips, both labor members. W. L. McMenimen, the third member, is in the East on an investigation trip for the board.

Definite recognition of a "living wage" and "saving wage" was made for the first time by the board in today's decision. Although abnormal post-war conditions were pointed out as obstructions to fixing any scientific living or saving wage at present, the board declared that as soon as this condition cleared away it would "give increased consideration to all the intricate details incident to the scientific adjustment" of such a wage.

Clerks and Station Employees.

The bulk of those hit by the new cut will be 209,000 clerks and 100,000 station employees.

Telephone girls are given a minimum wage of $5 a month but any "hello girls" who receive more than that amount at present shall not suffer any reduction.

Signalmen helpers suffered a six-cent slash. Signal foremen, assistant foremen and inspectors and train dispatchers escaped reduction.

Stationary engineers, firemen and others, numbering 10,000, were reduced two cents an hour.

A decision covering 75,000 telegraphers will be issued by the board later.

Dining car employees, marine workers and culinary workers on the ferries in San Francisco Bay will continue to get their present pay.

Figures in the decision showed that clerks will receive under the new scale an average of 55.5 cents an hour compared with 54.5 cents in December, 1917, when the government took over the railroads.

The firemen and others have received an increase from 21.8 cents an hour in 1917 to 49.6 in July 1.

"That the carriers shall have a fair opportunity to profit by the revival of business, in order that they may expand their facilities is absolutely indispensable to their efficient service to the American public," the decision said. "Their unpreparedness now to cope with any greatly increased traffic is notorious. Every facility of railway transportation has been skimped for the last several years, and as to mileage, there has been an actual decrease instead of an increase."

Should Bear and Forbear.

This statement must not be misinterpreted to mean that the employees should be called upon to bear the cost of railway rehabilitation. Improved service and reduced rates, it simply means that it is only patriotic common sense and justice that every citizen, including the railway employee, should co-operate in a cordial spirit, should bear and forbear, until the carriers are back on their feet.

"When this accomplishment is fully under way, it will then be possible for the Railroad Labor board to give increased consideration to all intricate details."

"In this connection it should be said that the labor board has never adopted the theory that human labor is a commodity to be bought and sold upon the market and, consequently, to be reduced to stagnation prices during periods of depression and unemployment."

On the other hand, it is idle to contend that labor can be completely freed from the economic laws which likewise affect the earnings of capital.

Taking notice of labor leaders who declared after the last wage decision that the board had disregarded the employees' "living wage" argument, the decision said:

"The extreme utterance of partisan bias to the effect that the board does not give full consideration to the evidence submitted to it would be discouraging were it not for knowledge of the fact that such utterances evince merely a spasmodic relapse into the old system of bluff and bluster that entered so largely into the adjustment of railroad labor disputes before adjudication supplanted force."

On the other hand, the decision stated the board had given "careful consideration" to the employees' testimony on family budgets and standards of living but declared much of it was "highly theoretical and of but little value."

The dissenting opinion took the majority to task for the cut and declared there could be "no question that very great pressure had been brought to bear on the board from different sources, making it difficult to consider the case on its merits."

The dissenting opinion also declared that the transportation act, which the board had adopted, was "probably never contemplated" by the framers, the opinion said.

Labor's Opinion of Decision.

Five reasons were named to cover the minority objections—that the bases on which the decision was made are not sufficient to justify the action taken; that the reasons offered for the cut go far beyond the provisions of the transportation act; that the new wages do not insure continuance of previous standards of living; that basing railroad wages on similar wages in outside industries is not sufficient reason for a reduction at present; and that the new wages condemn these railroad workers to lives of extreme poverty.

Taking up the family budget controversy, the labor members presented a table showing that the new clerks' wage would be from $57 to $68 below the $2,133 "health and decency" budget of the United States department of labor. Common labor around stations would miss the budget by $1,197, the dissent said. The new wages, it said, would reduce clerks to a standard 12 per cent below that of 1914.

$136,000,000 Loss Estimated

The labor members estimated that the 325,000 men covered by today's decision had lost $136,659,375 through wage reductions, losses from changes in rules, and on account of the reduction of forces in the last year.

The effect of the low wages on crime, mortality, child delinquency and infant mortality was treated at considerable length, the dissenters declared.

MEXICAN CONFEREES REACH AGREEMENT

Plan for Adjusting Entire External
Debt of Southern Republic
Completed by Committee

New York, June 16.—A plan for adjusting the entire external debt of the Mexican government, the national railways debt of that country and certain so-called internal debts held largely outside of Mexico, was agreed upon today by the International Committee of Bankers on Mexico and Adolfo de la Huerta, finance minister of the republic below the Rio Grande.

The agreement, which is subject to the approval of President Obregon, covers securities with a face value exceeding 500,000,000 in gold on which the interest is arrears approximately $240,000,000.

Under the agreement, cash payments on current interest are to begin after January 2, 1923, out of a special fund into which will be paid the oil export taxes and a surcharge on railway gross receipts.

All cash payments as to back interest are to be waived. Outstanding bonds will be deposited with a trustee and the receipts for the coupons will be amortized without interest over a period of time. This arrangement, in effect, begins a cancellation of part of the book interest.

The railways of Mexico are to be returned to private management promptly. The government will assume by endorsement all railway debt not already guaranteed by it.

Washington, June 16. — A compromise to be given 24 pt. D. C.

Displacement of the tariff bill in favor of the bonus measure was said to have resulted in a compromise which is to be passed next Monday by the House of Representatives.

The delegates were taken on an automobile tour of the city this afternoon as guests of the Automobile club of Syracuse.

WARD EXPECTED TO "SUMMER" IN JAIL

Only Way He Can Go Free Is to Have Murder Indictment
Dismissed

White Plains, June 16. — Arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Morchauer on an indictment for the first degree murder of Clarence Peters, ex-sailor, to which he pleaded not guilty, Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, tonight was locked in a common cell of the Westchester county jail with prospects of spending the summer there.

To Ward's counsel, who pleaded for an early trial, Justice Morchauer replied curtly that Ward would have to take his turn with other prisoners awaiting trial—among whom, he mentioned in passing, was one colored man who had been awaiting trial for several months and who would get his day in court ahead of Ward.

Justice Morchauer said his term in the Plattsburgh prison ended June 30 and he was not inclined to stay over to try Ward's case. If the defense could induce District Attorney Weeks to move for an early trial it was possible Justice Tompkins could be induced to try it in July, he said.

Mr. Weeks announced later, however, that it probably would be October before he would be ready to proceed with the trial. In the meantime Ward, who is accused of a non-bailable offense, must remain in jail unless he succeeds in getting the indictment against him dismissed.

It was rumored his counsel might try this by the expedient of applying for permission to inspect the minutes of the grand jury which indicted him and then applying for dismissal on the ground the indictment was based on insufficient evidence.

RAILMEN TO CONSIDER JOINT ACTION WITH MINERS' UNION

Cincinnati, June 16.—Joint action between members of the railway shop crafts and maintenance of way unions in their threatened strike with members of the United Mine Workers of America will be discussed by officials of these unions upon the arrival here, probably tomorrow of John L. Lewis, president of the miners.

Decision of the rail union leaders to ask the miners for a meeting came as a climax to a series of conferences which they have been holding for the last few days, at which plans for the threatened strike were discussed. The meeting of the union leaders to discuss joint action also was considered by B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department, with William Green, secretary-treasurer of the miners, and he later was understood to have agreed to join in the meeting.

Public announcement of the rail union leaders' decision was made by Mr. Jewell during the afternoon session of the American Federation of Labor convention. He said that the conference would be held in accordance with the provisions of the "co-operative agreement" between the mine workers and the railway organizations entered into at Chicago last February. He said that "there would be no question as to matter, no subject, other than those properly permissible under the terms of that agreement."

No general strike ballot will be sent out by the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, it was said tonight by E. E. Fitzgerald, its president, who said no strike would develop among these workers on several railroad systems.

Timothy Healey, president of the firemen and others' union, said a ballot on the strike would be in the mails tomorrow night.

LONELY CANADIAN ISLAND

Buffalo, June 16. — Paul McQuade, 21, and Gladys Warren, 20, of Nashville, Tenn., were turned over to local police tonight by Canadian detectives who arrested the couple on Wednesday on a lonely island 200 miles north of Toronto.

McQuade is charged with embezzlement of $2,500 from the First and Fourth National banks of Nashville, by which he was employed as collection teller.

The girl said that she and McQuade left Nashville on May 13. They tried to get married in Louisville, Chicago, New Albany, Ind., Detroit and Toronto, but the girls' extremely youthful appearance caused officials to refuse to perform the ceremony, she said.

AMONG HOME RUN CLOUTERS

St. Louis, June 16. — Kenneth Williams clouted out his 16th home run of the season in today's game with Washington. Zachary was pitching for the visitors. This puts Williams one home ahead of Roger Hornsby of the Indians, who tied Williams' record of 15 by knocking a circuit drive in today's game with Brooklyn. McManus of the Browns also got a home run today with Gerber on base.

Mrs. Vardaman fainted when she was sentenced. As soon as she was revived, she cried: "I will never live to begin my sentence."

CHASE BANK ROBBERS
SENT TO SING SING

Get Four to Eight-Year Terms for Making Away With Nearly a Half Million Dollars

New York, June 16. — Arthur F. Chase and John W. Vardaman, who confessed robbing the Chase National bank of nearly a half million dollars in bonds consigned to the National Shawmut bank in Boston, today were sentenced by Supreme Court Justice Martin to terms of from four to eight years each in Sing Sing.

Mrs. Bertha E. Vardaman, once known on the vaudeville stage as Fernie Hollis, was permitted to plead guilty to criminally receiving stolen property and was sentenced to from one and a half to three years in the women's prison at Auburn.

Chase, a former Texas ranger, who had been employed at the Chase National bank, substituted a bundle of paper for the package of bonds which had been prepared for mailing and turned the bonds over to his confederate, Vardaman. The Vardamans were captured at Savannah, Ga., and most of the securities secured.

Seek President's Attitude.

Washington, June 16. — Republican leaders of the house will confer again tomorrow with President Harding on the question of taking up the administration ship subsidy bill prior to adjournment.

Indications tonight were that they would reiterate the belief that consideration of the measure ought to go over until the December session but all leaders declared they would take it up and force it to a vote if the President still insisted.

The bill was reported today to the house by the merchant marine committee, which rejected the Bankhead amendment, providing that no government aid should go to ships which sell liquor. There was no action on the Edmunds proposal for imposition of $10,000 fines on all ships, American or foreign, which sold liquor on any voyage starting or ending at an American port.

Defeated by the committee, Mr. Bankhead announced he would demand a vote on his amendment in the house. There was no record vote in committee on the amendment but it was opposed by Republicans and supported by Democrats.

LIQUOR SALE
PERMISSIBLE

Shipping Board Vessels May Sell
Wet Goods Outside Three-
Mile Limit, Is Ruling

Washington, June 16.—Sale of liquor on shipping board vessels outside the three-mile limit is permissible under new treasury regulations issued today, according to P. A. Vise, general counsel for the prohibition unit.

This interpretation was taken as settling for the time being the controversy over liquor on government ships precipitated by Adolphus Busch III, the St. Louis brewer, when he wrote President Harding that the government was engaging in the bootlegging business by permitting sale of alcoholic beverages on shipping board vessels.

Solution of the problem, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, declared tonight, lies in "excluding all ships that sell liquor from American ports." Legislation to this end is being considered, he said, asserting that by putting both American and foreign vessels on an equal footing with respect to liquor the competitive feature of the question would be removed.

The new regulations were not drafted with the intention of settling the question of liquor on shipping board vessels, Mr. Vise said, and in fact were written before that question arose. As drawn, however, he said they would apply equally to American and foreign ships.

BANKHEAD ACTIVE

Seeks to Prevent Government Aid
Under Subsidy to Ships

Score Trapped in
Brazilian Liner

Liner Submerged Two-Thirds in Bottom of a German
Canal

(By the Associated Press)

Hamburg, Germany, June 16. — More than a score of men were entrapped in the hold of the Brazilian liner Avare when she capsized today while being hauled out of drydock at the Vulkan ship yards here. Openings were being forced this afternoon into the hold in an effort to save the men while the liner lay submerged for two-thirds of her extent in the bottom of the canal.

It is believed about thirty men, members of the Brazilian crew of the liner, and shipyard workers were caught within the vessel. Others on the ship, for some unknown reason, began to list heavily. They were saved by motorboats and the harbor fire department which immediately began operations to liberate the entrapped men.

The funnels and masts of the Avare snapped off when she keeled over. She first listed to starboard and then to port before overturning. The number of men imprisoned was not definitely known as this despatch was filed as the rescue work was proceeding with difficulty. The Avare, a twin screw steamer of 8,225 tons gross, is owned by the Brazilian Lloyd company. She left Santos, Brazil, April 27, going to Havre and then to Lisbon before coming to Hamburg. She had been in dry dock for the last eight days.

Taylor of Indianapolis to be president of the convention next year. The election will be held tomorrow. It was learned from the fundamentalist group that Dr. Frank M. Goodchild of New York would be nominated as its candidate. The motion by the Fundamentalists to have the official weekly publication of the convention, the Baptist Union, sold to individuals failed of action today when the resolution offered by Dr. J. C. Massey of Boston was referred to the executive committee. According to Dr. Massey the Baptists refused to print any matter sent to it by the Fundamentalists.

Pillory was defeated by Snob II. Then in the Belmont races he defeated Snob. Now Pillory is considered the only horse with a chance to beat Morvich, the wonder racer.

EXTERMINATOR WINS BROOKLYN HANDICAP

Kilmer's Entry Captures $10,000 Prize, With Gray Lag Second and Polly Ann Third

New York, June 16.—Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Exterminator today won the Brooklyn handicap for $10,000, with Gray Lag second and Polly Ann third. The time for the mile and a furlong was 1:50. Captain Alcock and Besaklere also ran.

Exterminator, whose time was within one second of the handicap record, was accorded the greatest ovation heard in many years on a local track. Speculation was largely confined to Exterminator at 7 to 5, while Gray Lag closed the favorite at 7 to 10. The owners of Mad Hatter, Senings Park and Devastation declined the issue at the last minute.

The handicap ushered in 13 days of racing at the Aqueduct track and the big crowd grew frenzied at the stirring finish, in which Gray Lag lost only by a neck.

Exterminator, the "iron horse of the American turf," carrying the crushing weight of 135 with A. Johnson up, followed the pace set alternately by Polly Ann and Gray Lag. At the home turn he saved ground by slipping through along the inner rail. Polly Ann then retired, but Gray Lag held on gamely.

Polly Ann finished five lengths behind the leaders, driving hard to hold Captain Alcock safe by a neck.

SPELL IS BROKEN

Oneonta Giants Trim Unadilla Outfit Game Replete With Excitement and Critical Situations — Both Teams Hit Freely.

About 7 o'clock last evening the state road between here and Unadilla looked like a one way street, or an auto parade of some sort or other. It was nothing more or less than the crowd of baseball fans from the village down the Susquehanna valley returning to their home roost for the night. They had left their native haunts earlier in the afternoon to see their representatives on the diamond again put over a victory at the cost of the Oneonta Giants, but it was not to be so yesterday, and they were a sober collection of fans as they journeyed southward after the game.

"Pop" Bell was on the hill for the visitors and, like Wiltzie, his opponent, was hit hard and freely, but he failed to see the light when it was displayed and continued throughout the controversy, while the home collection of ball havers hammered his offerings right and left at times. On the other hand, when Bridwell saw that Wiltzie was in the least likely to need assistance, he sent Thomas to the right field foul territory to warm up, and when he did deem it advisable—in the first of the seventh after Gilhooley, first up, had put a triple and Alexander, second, had a single—two balls and one strike—to shift around artist, he had one ready to go in, and he certainly did effective work, holding the slugging opposition to a single hit—that a bunt which had been intended for a sacrifice—throughout the remainder of the game. Thomas was a little wild in the eighth, walking three successive batters, after he had just fanned the first two of the inning.

The home town aggregation started off very strongly, the first three men getting safe hits. Gilmore and Purcell got singles and Alexander a double, the last mentioned hit putting Chubby across the rubber and Purcell on third. Hatch was out on a grounder. Bridwell hit to short, who threw to the plate, too late to get Purcell, however. Snyder fanned and Bridwell was forced at second.

The third was a heart breaker, for Wiltzie sent over just what they seemed to be looking for. Bell was first up and he singled to left, being followed by Hunter, who cracked a double between center and right. Babe's ground out didn't move either of the runners any, but Gilhooley had better luck, his one-base hit scoring one run and putting another man on third, whence he came running in on Byrnes' hot drive across first into right, which effort also sent Gilhooley scampering along the paths towards home. Keating fell a victim of the deceptive shots and fanned, much to his displeasure. Spahn ended the agony by a grounder, Alexander unassisted.

Thus the exciting incidents followed each other until the last of the fifth, but always ending with no scores being secured by either side.

In the frame mentioned, the Giants put another dust over Purcell's head safely, getting second on Alexander's infield hit. Both were sacrificed another peg by Hatch. Bridwell hit to Keating, who had no trouble in getting the Bronx Flash at the plate, Bridwell winding up on second in the mixup which followed the play. Snyder got a bingle to left, driving in both Alexander and Bridwell, taking the one run lead away from Moore's men and onto the home players' side of the ledger.

But Unadilla didn't intend to let things rest status quo and intended to get that run back with as many more as possible and in the stretch inning made another vain try at the bell ringers. Gilhooley was the best man up and he touched up Wiltzie for a triple to right field. Byrnes came up and Boone had announced the count two balls and one strike, when Manager Bridwell gave Thomas the high sign and he trotted into the diamond to stem the tide, which he did by fanning the hard hitting Swat.

Keating put down a bunt, which went safe, Gilhooley scoring the play. Thomas immediately forgot all about the runner on first, for he started a windup, cutting it short when he was made ware of the fact that the green stocking was on his way to second, and throwing the ball to second, the balk entitling the runner the sack. Spahn hit to Bridwell who threw him out, Keating getting third. Steiner hit a difficult one to short, which Gilmore fielded to perfection, getting the hand clapping from the audience.

Thus things were evened up, but they were not destined to so remain long. Hatch singled to right in Oneonta's portion of the seventh, took third on a sacrifice out, being safe at the hot corner by a close play. Snyder punched his bat against the net for what is probably the longest hit made here this season, getting a triple and of course, scoring Hatch. McCarthy's effort was a fly which Steiner took care of. Reid hit to Steiner, but the felder juggled this one, scoring Snyder. Reid was caught trying to steal second.

Just to make the margin of probable victory a little safer, the Oneonta team turned out another run in the eighth. Thomas got a safe clout to right. Gilmore beat out a bunt. Purcell hit too high in the air, but Thomas took third on it. Alexander put a ditty mark under Purcell's effort, his fly also being taken care of by Hatch in right and Thomas advancing a base, which in this case was the home plate he reached. Hatch was also a victim of the aerial route, ending the scoring for the afternoon.

THINGS WE DON'T KNOW.

Recently a Chicago manufacturer of camel's hair brushes was about to go out of business. He could obtain no more camel's hair from Germany. A person given to research studied the manufacturer's problem. He discovered there were not enough camels in the world to furnish the hair the manufacturer used. He traced the camel's hair to its source—the Chicago stockyards. He analyzed the chemical treatment to which the camouflaged hair had been subjected and found out all about it. Now the manufacturer is getting all the camel's hair he needs in Chicago at lower prices.

Little research is being carried on, however, for our largest concern—the public business. Especially is this true of forestry. We know very little about the possibilities of raising trees and their utilization compared with what we should know, confronted as we are with a crisis in wood supply.

It was a big thing to double the life and service of a railroad tie — research did it. May not the life and service of a tie be quadrupled? Research developed that paper could be manufactured from wood pulp, after more than 600 substances had been tried. This was one of the most important events in history. Our supply of spruce trees is almost exhausted. Not enough is being done to find substitutes for spruce pulp and new processes of making paper. It takes 60 years to grow a merchantable white pine tree. White pine is near the vanishing point. Perhaps a merchantable white pine could be grown in ten years. Only through systematic experiment can such economies for mankind be worked out. The timber situation, which is increasing seriousness, demands that more investigation work be done.

Research in forestry has already produced results of incalculable advantage to the people. Research is essential for future progress. It therefore should be promoted in every practicable way.

SOMETHING DONE.

Relative to work on state highways, Commissioner Sisson has submitted these facts: 23 contracts more than 90 per cent completed; 57 contracts more than 75 per cent completed; 53 contracts more than 50 per cent completed; 15 contracts completed. This information proves that something has been done and that something is being done to improve the highway system of the state, and also supports what the Commissioner is of the opinion that the 633 miles completed in 1921 will be exceeded this year, and that perhaps all records of the department will be broken.

Inspection of the work was made at the direction of Commissioner Sisson, whose estimate of what he expected to accomplish in 1922 was not announced until the report was presented to him in verified form. With the facts before him he was prepared to give out the information, which is further indication of the efficiency of the present administration of the department.

There is no more important bureau in the state service than highways, and it is a source of satisfaction to the people to get word as to what is being done, particularly the statement that the construction program this year provides for 1,000 miles of highway to be under construction by August, and that $30,000,000 will be expended for construction and maintenance. It surely is evidence of something being done rather than something being promised. At present there are 152 contracts under way with more than 5,000 men at work, not including the state force of 2,000.

Ladies wore bustles.
Operations were rare.
Nobody had seen a sign.
Nobody has a reputation.
Nobody wore white shoes.
Nobody sprayed orchards.
Cream was 5 cents a pint.
Most young men had "beery bills".
Cantaloupes were muskmelons.
You never heard of a "tin lizzie".
Doctors wanted to see your tongue.
Milk shake was a favorite drink.
Advertisers did not tell the truth.
Nobody cared for the price of gasoline.

Farmers came to town for their mail.
The hired girl drew one-fifty a week.
The butcher "threw in" a chunk of liver.
Folks said pneumatic tires were a joke.
Nobody "listened in" on a telephone.
There were no sane fourtens or electric meters.
Strawstacks were burned instead of baled.
People thought English sparrows were "birds".
Jules Verne was the only convert to the submarine.—[The Sample Case]

Jersey County Club Picnic.
The annual picnic of the Jersey Cattle club of Otsego county will be held today at the home of M. H. Riddell at Cooperstown Junction. The forenoon will be devoted to herd inspection, and there will be a basket luncheon at noon. In the afternoon there will be talks by H. K. Kershaw of the Dairyman's league, Mr. Gold of the Meridale Farms and County Manager Barlow, the latter on the work of the Live Stock Council. Songs by Paul Talbot of Burlington State will intersperse the program.

THE PRESS AND THE PUBLIC

Cuban Crisis Apparently Averted.

This public has not been informed of the precise nature of the crisis whose occurrence at Havana has been the occasion for some grave apprehensions, but whatever may have been its origin it is reassuring to learn that the serious outcome which some had anticipated is likely to be averted. For several months or longer the financial situation in Cuba has been unsatisfactory and threatening, chiefly as a result of the wild speculation in sugar in which so many of its business men engaged during the later years of the war and immediately following the armistice.—[Philadelphia Inquirer.]

A Long Jump.

Captain A. W. Stevens, an aerial photographer, dropped off an army bombing plane 24,206 feet above Springfield, Ohio, yesterday, and landed safely by parachute. His descent took thirty minutes, and he reached the ground twenty-five miles from where he jumped from the plane. The take off was from McCook field. The jump was 194 feet short of that made by Lieutenant Arthur G. Hamilton at Chanute field, Illinois, March 23, 1921.—[New York Herald.]

Without Hypocrisy.

An editor of a Western paper recently writing of a local improvement society and of the conditions of individual premises says of one citizen: "There is no hypocrisy about Brown. He is not one of those men who beautify their front yards and leave the back yards filled with ashcans, rusty tin and disorder. No hypocrisy. Brown's front yard is just as dirty as the back one."—[Saturday Evening Post.]

"Personal Journalism."

Although "personal journalism" may be said to have ended in America with the recent passing of Colonel Watterston, it still flourishes in England. The Manchester Guardian, by many considered the greatest British Newspaper of this day, has had in the 101 years of its existence only four editors, and the fourth and greatest, C. E. Scott, is now completing his fiftieth year in that office.—[Philadelphia Record.]

Chicago's Growth.

Chicago claims to be growing at the rate of 4,388 a month, or $2,620 a year and hopes to pass Paris in a couple of years. In picturesque crime the Western metropolis would already seem to have outdistanced the French capital. Of what avail is it to pile up a big population if a city loses its own soul? Judging by recent dispatches from Chicago, the community would do well to think more of obedience to the law and less of material greatness. That has always been its weakness.—[Philadelphia Record.]

A Posing Type.

George Aldridge was one of two or three old-style political leaders left over from the group that held political power in the state of New York before Theodore Roosevelt was elected governor.

For more than thirty years he took an active part in Republican party politics and exercised a very considerable influence in the state government. He held a number of offices, both local and state, but his personal importance was always greater than that of the offices to which he was elected or appointed.

Aldridge was picturesque as well as powerful. He was nearly absolute in his own field. But he belonged to a vanishing race. In a few more years the oldtime party boss whose word was law in conventions will have passed out of politics forever.—[New York Tribune.]

Tale of a Traveler.

"What is this man's reputation for truth and veracity?"
"Your honor, I always thought him a truthful man until about two months ago."

"What happened then?"
"He claimed to have made a trip across the continent in his sliver without a breakdown or a puncture."—[Louisville Age-Herald.]

Innocence Abroad.

"Have you any fresh vitamins?" asked the young bride.
"Yes, mum," said the veracious dealer. "We've got some that was caught on the coast yesterday."
"A pound please?"
She got chirps.—[Birmingham Age-Herald.]

Real Estate Transactions.

The Ceperley-Morgan Real Estate company, Inc., have sold a building lot at the corner of Shepherd avenue and Orchard street at West End to P. B. Alford, who plans to build on it for his own occupancy.

George Webster of Morris sold his two hundred and two m of with twenty-five cows, on of horses and one pair of milk extensive set of farming tools to Frank Whipple of Oneonta, who takes immediate possession. The sale was made by Charles N. Muddock, 7 Ford avenue, Oneonta.

A new joy called "Outija" has been introduced to the public.

F. H. Broese is putting in an immense stock of merchandise, including ready-made clothing.—[Hartwick Items.]

Officer Dibble arrested "Romeo" Schermerhorn on the circus grounds yesterday while intoxicated and raising a disturbance about the ticket office.

Trustee Samuel Coon and wife returned yesterday from a visit to Bloomville. Mr. Coon states that there are daily four trains in Bloomville, which endures the previous monotony.

Tomorrow's issue of The Star will complete its second year of existence and to celebrate the event the printers and newboys, 20 or more in number, will spend the day at Crumhorn lake.

A. J. Relyea has been appointed a special policeman for the year. Hartwick will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the organization of the town on July 4.

It is believed by many that the prices of real estate here have reached rock bottom and that those who buy now will see property advance. Trustee Bowdish has reported to the village board what a committee has called upon him asking that something be done to stop the running of the trolley car with a flat wheel.

In advertising the speakers for Sunday meetings in a distant town the name of an esteemed Oneontian was misspelled and even after introductions followed the people insisted on calling the gentleman Mr. "Beans."

Old Fan Wants Real Base Ball.

Editor Star:
Kindly permit an old fan, one still fond of the sport, space in which to voice his disgust and regret at the senseless kicking and crabbing at the umpire's decisions which spoiled the game with Unadilla on Friday for many and sent me away from the grounds disgusted. If Unadilla really thinks Oneonta wants to win games by unjust decisions they should cancel all games and on the other hand Oneonta should cancel them until Unadilla will play the game through without the delays and bickerings of Friday.

It is no easy task to umpire a game of ball where both teams are so determined to win and so equally paired. No team should accept all close decisions in its favor as just and fair and then kick against all decisions made against it as rank and unfair. Umpires want to give each and every player what they earn and no more.

In the game of Friday Oneonta suffered quite as much as Unadilla at the hands of the umpires. One of the Oneonta baserunners was called out at the plate because the catcher had time to tag him though as a matter of fact the player darted under and was not touched. Oneonta's first twirler also suffered because he was not given the corners.

It is the rule of some attorneys when they have a weak case to abuse the opposing attorney and witnesses and this would seem to have been the tactics yesterday toward the umpires.

Such exhibits will destroy public interest. Spectators were kept at the grounds until half past six o'clock when the game should have ended at 6 o'clock. If the management wants the continued patronage of those who desire to see real base ball and dislike scraps they will avoid exhibitions of the sort given yesterday.

STEAM PIPE FELL ON HIM

Uster & Delaware Baggage Master Injured by Heavy Coil.

Joseph Redmond of Oneonta, baggage man on the Rip Van Winkle flyer on the U. & D. railroad, met with a peculiar but fortunate accident recently when hearing Fleischmanns station.

He was seated on a trunk facing the side of the car when without warning a heavy section of steam heating pipes fell over onto him, striking him across the legs and nearly paralyzing them and rendering him unable to walk.

An examination by a doctor at Fleischmanns disclosed nothing serious outside of bad contusions which will keep him from duty for a time. One heat coil weighed over 200 pounds.

LOCAL MENTION.

Keeton's band will give the first open air concert of the season Wednesday evening, June 21.

Dean Vichert, of the Colgate Theological Seminary, will preach at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning.

Evening prayer will be said at St. James' church on the Sundays during the summer months at 8 o'clock instead of 7:30.

Parents are requested by the police department to keep their children from playing ball in the city streets. The practice is in violation of a city ordinance and furthermore is exceedingly dangerous with so many automobiles on the streets.

The good old days will come in for recognition tomorrow, Father's day. There is no fixed formula of observance for the occasion, but doubtless each son and daughter will know just what to do by way of reverence to fathers, dead and living.

The Elks' Glee club will give a concert on Sunday afternoon at the Otego County sanatorium at Mt. Vision for the entertainment of the patients. Lead singer, Keeton, Jr., has arranged an attractive program of about an hour's duration.

The first dinner dance of the season was held at the Country club last evening and proved most enjoyable to the large number of members and invited guests. Caterer Ward furnished a dinner of satisfying quality and the music furnished by the Pinchers for the dance was of the same nature.

Those desiring of renting rooms to visiting undertakers during the convention from Tuesday to Thursday of next week are requested to notify the Chamber of Commerce offices, 826. A few men may find employment in setting up exhibits by applying at the armory Monday morning.

Shelter House for Wilber Park.

Elsewhere in this issue appears a notice asking for bids on the construction of a frame shelter house in Wilber park. All bids must be in by July 1. The shelter house, it is understood, will be similar in construction to the one in Neahwa park and will satisfy a long felt need of picnic parties. Tables and benches will be provided for the serving of meals and there will be running water, a sink and an oil stove provided. The house will probably be erected on the plateau near the corner of the grove of pines.

Meetings Sunday.

Special meeting, lodge 414, Boiler-makers and Helpers, at 9:30 a. m. Sunday.

Regular rehearsal of Keeton's band Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Regular meeting Chamber division, No. 45, O. R. C., Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Meetings Today.

All children who take part in the Children's day program at the United Presbyterian church are urged to be present at the church this afternoon at 2 o'clock for rehearsal. All that can bring flowers.

Hermann in Today's Game.

Albert Hermann, heavy hitting third sacker, is expected to arrive in the city today and to appear at the hot corner in today's game with the D. & H. Generals. Colgate plays the last game of its season on Wednesday next and Hermann will return for that contest, but will be in the Oneonta line-up in every other game. No word has been heard as to when Dewey Steffen will arrive. With Hermann on third, the strength of the Giants will be increased materially.

OPERA AT NORMAL TONIGHT

Second Showing of Gilbert and Sullivan Light Opera at Normal Hall This Evening—Indications Point to Notable Success This Year.

Those who have been privileged to view the final rehearsal for the presentation of the "H. M. S. Pinafore" to be given at the Normal this evening declare that if the final production is as good as the rehearsal, as it undoubtedly will be, it will be one of the most successful operas ever given at the Normal. Members of the cast have much natural ability and have put in some long weeks of training for the presentation of the opera this evening. Several of the principals have appeared in operas given in previous years. "Pinafore" presents some of the finest opportunities for genuinely fine musical and dramatic effects, and no one who appreciates an entertainment of so fine a character should fail to be present this evening. The success of operas given in past years shows that the Normal students are past masters in the art of productions of this kind. Miss Greene is director in charge and she has spent much time in training the girls to the highest degree of excellence in their parts. She is assisted by Miss Matteson and Miss Jenkins, who are in charge of the costumes. Miss Rogers has proved herself a very competent accompanist, and will be a very able second in the musical selections.

How a man borrowed $100, gave his note for it, with compound interest, payable monthly; intending to pay the note in two months? He forgot it and moved out of the state, made a fortune, moved back to his former home, was sued on the note and a judgment rendered against him for millions of dollars. Compound interest makes more than speculation and some 5,000 Oneonta people can tell you how I have unselfishly used it to safely make their small amounts roll up to several million dollars and am now thus rolling up four million more. My old man compound interest is no piker. Are you letting him help you? It, take your medicine. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Bldg. and Loan association. advt 1c

SENIOR CLASS DAY YESTERDAY

Annual Observance This Year Proves Most Amusing. Students Present Human Nature Study as Portrayed by Typical Visitors in Hotel Lobby.

The members of the class of 1922 at the Oneonta High school are to be congratulated upon the excellence of the little sketch of hotel life which was presented in the high school auditorium yesterday morning as a part of the annual observance of Senior Class Day. In years past the morning assembly as conducted by the graduating class has consisted of a series of take-offs on members of the faculty. There was little opportunity for variety along this line, so the class this year chose to present human nature studies. When the other classes assembled in the auditorium yesterday morning they found that the platform had been arranged to represent the lobby of a hotel—"Any Hotel," situated in the village of "Anywhere." Newstand, switchboard, clerk's desk, etc., were shown, in charge of "competent" employees of the management. All the members of the class joined in the presentation, and each character was faithfully portrayed with due regard for the humorous aspect of the situations in which the players portrayed found themselves. Under the impetus of the swiftly moving plot, tourists, local "characters," newlyweds, and hangers-on portrayed modern hotel life so faithfully as to draw constant applause from the student body. The following list of the characters will be sufficient to show the humorous character of the sketch as presented by the seniors:

Clerk—Walter Burke.
Switchboard Operator—Ella Stevens.
Newstand Salesgirl—Helen Morris.
Bell Hops—Alyn Niles and Anthony Lane.

House Detective—John Haasling.
Sheriff—Herman Lare.
Gossips—Imogene Ackley, Margaret Becker and Helen Yagel.

Downy Babe—Florence Gay.
Widow—Evelyn Cady.
Applicant for Matrimonial Advertisement—Elizabeth Cady.

Poetess—Esther Beams.
Artist and Her Assistant—Estelle Johnson and Nina Kane.
Expressmen—Rupert Beisel and Lee Jaycox.

Salesgirl Kirkman's Borax Soap—Mildred White.
Tourists—Edis Borst, Gladys Teed, Alice Webster.

Insurance Agent—Myra Lewis.
Christian Endeavor Worker—Agnes Hulbert.
Wife and Her Henpecked Husband—Mary Ellen Clark and Ferris Hanford.

Teachers—Mildred Kain, Pauline Quimette, Sarah Murdock and Marguerite Lake.
Grocery Boy—Gaylord Smith.
Colored Washerwoman—Helen Capron.

Bride and Groom—Marguerite Cooke and Allan Bishop.
Professional Crook—Wayne Teson.
Minister and Wife—Clifford White and Katherine Hastings.

Prima Donna and Her Devoted Slave—Helen Pluhner and Floyd Knapp.
Opera Singer—Dorothy Terry.
Caretaker of Twins—James Nelson.

The Twins—Ethel and Anice Kilkeny.
Salesgirl of Blue Jay Coin Plasters—Lena Briggs.
Designer of Dresses—Virginia Colburn.

French Midwifette—Esther Smith.
Needless to say the parts were well taken by each of the members of the class and it was remarkable to note what a large percentage of the large number of students participating in the play possessed dramatic ability to a considerable extent. Each one took the part for which he was particularly adapted and the result of the portrayal of human nature was humorous in the extreme. The Senior Class Day of this year will live long in the memory of the Alumni, faculty and students of the other classes who viewed the performance yesterday.

To Miss Bessie Cowan, instructor in Public Speaking, much credit is due for her helpful suggestions and competent leadership. The nature of the exercises to be conducted in the auditorium had been kept secret and the sketch of hotel life came as a complete surprise to the other high school students.

Reservations continue to come in large numbers from undertakers from all sections of the state for the annual convention of the New York State Undertakers' association to be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at the State Armory, and it is expected that this, the 43rd annual meeting of the association, will be the largest in attendance in its history.

A number of addresses have been arranged for the three-day session, opening at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning with the address of welcome by Mayor Clarence C. Miller and the response from Lester W. Hill of Brooklyn, past president of the association. The annual address of President Harry T. Pyle of Brooklyn, one by Rev. Charles S. Pendleton on "The Graces of Dignity," and another by President Roscoe C. Briggs of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce on "Casket Timber and Material" will occupy most of Tuesday's program. The opening session is the only one open to the public, although the exhibits on the armory drill floor may be viewed by citizens at any time during the convention. Scenes of giant Redwood forests in Scotia will be shown at the annual banquet of the association at the Elks' club Tuesday evening, a film of the pictures which feature the manufacture of California Redwood caskets having been secured through the efforts of President Briggs of the Chamber of Commerce from the Pacific Lumber company of Eureka. A dance at the Armory will follow the banquet.

The Oneonta-Norwich baseball game Tuesday afternoon, an automobile trip and Country Club luncheon for the ladies of the convention Wednesday morning, an automobile trip for all to Otego lake Wednesday afternoon, and a theater party at the Oneonta Theatre that evening are other features of the entertainment program arranged by the Chamber of Commerce committee of which I. J. Bookhout is chairman.

St. James' Church Picnic Today.

Weather permitting, the annual picnic of St. James' Parish will be held this afternoon in Neahwa park. The children will be served at 5 o'clock and after they have had their fill, the adults will have their turn. Each family is requested to bring its own sandwiches, something in a covered dish and cup, fork and spoon.

Annual Meeting Change.

The time for the annual meeting of the Alumni association of the Normal school has been changed from 3 to 4 o'clock on Monday. It is hoped that every alumnus of the school will be present and help to further the projects which the association has in mind to carry out in the next year.

Normal Commencement at Nine.

Commencement exercises at the Normal school will begin Tuesday morning, June 20, at 9 o'clock sharp. All who wish to attend are requested to be in assembly hall promptly at nine o'clock. All friends of the school are invited. Tickets can be obtained at the office of the school.

Physicians attending the course devote one day a week over a period of four months. Similar courses are given at Syracuse, Buffalo and Ithaca. Dr. Charles C. Duryee, state sanitary supervisor, is the director of the course at Albany. At the session on Thursday Dr. James W. DEATH OF H. F. VAN WOERT

CITY'S OLDEST AND BEST KNOWN PHOTOGRAPHER PASSES AWAY LAST EVENING.

Had Been in Failing Health Since August Last Suffering from a Complication of Diseases. Man Universally Esteemed — Funeral Services Monday.

After a long and heroic struggle against an insidious disease, H. F. VanWoert, Oneonta's oldest and best known photographer, passed peacefully away last evening shortly before 8 o'clock at the family residence at 2 West street, having been in failing health since August last, when he was obliged to relinquish work at the studio. In January he went to Alden for treatment and remained there for six weeks, returning little benefited. He returned home two weeks ago from the Clifton Springs sanitarium with little or no encouragement that he would recover. His strength had been failing rapidly for the past few days. Death is attributed to a complication of diseases with progressive pneumonia perhaps the most pronounced.

Hamilton Fowler VanWoert was born on the old VanWoert homestead in the town of Oneonta, now known as the Tyler farm located on the Otsego road below the Pony farm. April 5, 1857. He was the son of the late Joseph A. VanWoert and Mary Louise Fowler, and he resided on the old homestead for several years. Later he removed with his parents to a farm on the Sand Creek below Wells Bridge and then after a few years to Otsego village and still later they occupied a farm on the South Side of the Susquehanna river in the town of Sidney opposite the Cone farm.

When 24 years of age Mr. VanWoert came to Oneonta and entered the employ of the late Perry R. Young, becoming after a few years very proficient as a photographer. In the early summer of 1887 he removed to Athens, Pa., where he conducted a studio for one year, returning at the end of that period to Oneonta and purchasing the studio of E. E. Winans in the Ford & Stewart block. Since 1888 he has been continuously engaged in the conduct of a studio in this city enjoying a liberal patronage. Since 1906 his son, Ray H. VanWoert, has been associated in the business, it being conducted as the VanWoert Studio.

On June 23, 1897, Mr. VanWoert was united in marriage with Miss Mary Louise Sloan, daughter of the late Z. H. Sloan, long a resident of Oneonta. Mrs. VanWoert and two sons, Lee D. VanWoert, the well known attorney and president of the Oneonta Ice company, and Ray H. VanWoert, survive him. Mr. VanWoert's only sister, Mrs. George Hale, died in 1884. His mother survived until 1913 and in her declining years he was very devoted to her, being a frequent visitor upon her at her home in Otsego.

Perhaps his most marked characteristic was his devotion to his family and business. He was constant in his attention to the studio and when he laid aside his camera to visit his home in Otsego, he was very devoted to the D. F. Wilber Hook & Ladder company when the then village had a volunteer fire department and was always conspicuous in its activities. He was an attendant of St. James' church. Gentle and kindly and always considerate of others, he had a wide circle of friends who will learn with sincere regret of his demise.

The funeral services are to be held on Monday at 2 o'clock from the residence at 3 West street. Rev. L. C. Denney of St. James' church will officiate.

Funeral of Mrs. Ira Alsford.

Prayer service for Mrs. Ira Alsford, whose death occurred last Wednesday night, was held at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at her late home, 39 Spruce street. The ritual service of the Protestant Episcopal church was read by Rev. L. C. Denney, after which the body, accompanied by the immediate family, was taken on the 9:05 train to Delanson, where service was held at 1:30 p. m. in the Methodist Episcopal church. Interment followed in the family plot at Delanson. The bearers, who accompanied the body from Oneonta, were Robert Estabrook, Tracy Munson, Lefroy VanHousen, and George Wood of this city, and Clyde Woody and Leo Signor of Carbondale.

Among the relatives and friends from a distance present at the funeral were Mrs. Huyler Hasbrouck and son, Lewis, of Wallkill, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Alsford and daughter of Walden, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Alsford of Wappingers Falls, Mrs. Charles Markert of Bloomsfield, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Woody, Miss Mary Woody and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Signor of Carbondale, Pa.

Many beautiful floral tributes from organizations and friends testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by those who knew her, and to their sympathy for the sorrowing family.

RAILS TARGET OF DAY'S LIQUIDATION

Recent Acute Unsettlement Makes Further Progress; Prices Break Sharply

New York, June 16.—Recent acute unsettlement in the stock market made further progress today, prices of many speculative issues again breaking sharply after an early period in which the list was disposed to make up some of its lost ground.

Liquidation differed from that of yesterday and the early period of the week in that it was directed more generally against the low-priced rails, a majority of the food specialties, minor motors and several of the mail order and chair store issues. Texas and Pacific was the main target, falling almost four points.

St. Louis Southwestern preferred, Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred, Lake Erie and Western block island, Pere Marquette, Atlantic Coast line and several of the prominent continental were lower by one to two and one-half points.

Elsewhere the reversal, which was at its height at midday, effected gross declines of one to three points, chemicals, secondary equipments, coppers, textiles and tobacco easing as "stop loss" orders were uncovered.

In the face of further reactionary tendencies in the stock list, today's bond market more than held its ground, although some of the underlying rails were under pressure at extreme losses of one to two points.

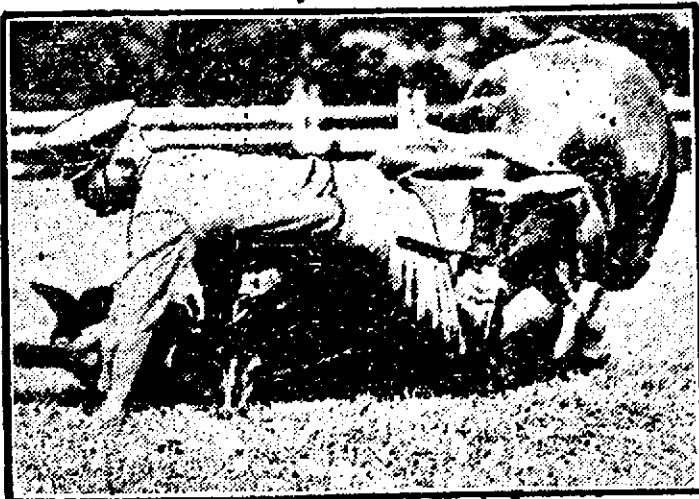

The health insurance company, the first 4 1/4's scoring a new top at 100.40, while several others of that series duplicated recent maximums. Altogether, nine of the Liberty group attained to par or better, with a steady demand for the 3 1/2's and second, third and fourth 4 1/4's.

Profit-taking probably conducted to the reversal in Peoria and Eastern incomes, and St. Paul convertibles, New Haven 6's, Seaboard adjustments, Mercantile Marine 6's, Consolidated Gas 7's and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were substantially lower.

Treasury officials at Washington reported a large over-subscription to the latest offering of certificates amounting to $250,000,000.

CALIFORNIA CONDORS
MAY NOT BE EXTINCT

Birds of That Species Have Been Seen, Although They Were Supposed to Be Gone.

The belief that the west coast or California condor, North America's largest bird, is practically extinct, must be revised, for several recent news stories from towns at the mouth of the Columbia river report two pairs of the big birds are frequently seen on the rocky bluffs there. They are evidently preparing to nest later on.

The condors noticed soaring above the extensive stretch of bluffs and sandbars are very large, with a wing spread of eight or nine feet. They are as black as the traditional German eagle.

Since the West was settled the condor has gradually decreased. The chief cause occurred when stock raising became common, and pasture lands being scarce, the herds were moved into the mountainous regions. Here coyotes, panthers and bears preyed upon the calves and lambs. To rid the herds of the pests, dead animals were poisoned. The condors came to feed, and numbers were killed this way each year.

The bird is very irregular in nesting and produces but one egg, which does not always hatch.

The condor is not an enemy to agriculturists, because its feet are like those of a chicken and not made to grasp and carry prey. They live in what other creatures kill and leave.

Prehistoric Freight.

When the cargo of a ship was unloaded recently at Portland, Ore., it was discovered that a certain portion, which was supposed to consist of walrus tusks, proved to be the ivory tusks of the mastodon. Crafty Siberian natives had substituted these for the walrus ivory which was ordered. The cheaters, however, cheated themselves, for in spite of its great age the substitute was well preserved and the large size of the tusks consequently made them more valuable.

VAGARIES OF VACUUM TUBES

Peculiar Actions That Always Astonish and Sometimes Frighten the Amateur Radioist.

Everybody who has had anything to do with vacuum tubes has from time to time had them do unexpected things and give results that at the moment seem beyond explanation.

The explanation of several characteristics of these miniature giants which are met with in daily operation is sure to prove of great interest to the amateur. In cases where the actions of the tube are not understood these peculiarities have sometimes frightened people.

One instance of a newborn fan's fright was brought to attention in a letter of inquiry. The instrument had just been set up and was being operated for the first time. The tubes had been firmly adjusted and were just at the spilling point and—over they went, giving vent to the most unearthly sounds. The embryo enthusiast who looked upon the audion tube as an electric light, thought it was going to explode. He jumped away from the instrument and out of the room, and did not venture near it for several hours, and then only after reaching round the corner of the door with a long stick and pulling the battery switch off.

Similar instances have come to attention when bulbs generate varicolored vapors in the vacuum chamber.

When Heine Was a Tramp.

Heinrich Heine was a tramp. He trudged all of one summer through Saxony in an old coat. He was going to Weimar to flatter—that seems odd—Goethe. As he wandered through the Harz mountains coming the speech he meant to make to the great German poet, he plucked plums by the wayside. When he reached his destination he forgot his eulogy and could only stammer his praise of Saxon plums. The railing, cynical exile of Paris, prodding his enemies with a trenchant pen, was that summer lovable as a tramp.—Exchange.

The Quarter at Church.

An instance of momentary success in the collection has been noted when the minister published the following solicitation in the congregational calendar: "I am 25 cents. I'm too small to buy a quart of oil; I'm too small to buy one-half pound of candy; I'm too small to buy a ticket to a good movie show; I'm even too small to buy a box of undetectable rouge; but most people think I'm 'some money' when I come to church."—The Christian Register.

Words to Be Avoided.

There are two simple words in our language that have caused more misery than all the plagues of history. They have broken lifelong friendships, set brother against brother, separated lovers and caused children to weep. These poisoned words have sent innocent persons to the gallows and have turned the debilitate into a demimondaine. Think well before you let them pass your lips. They are "They say."—Exchange.

The Rosary.

The word "rosary" is derived from the Latin "rosarium," which was originally a garland of roses and used to crown the image of the Virgin Mary. As a rosary in its present use it was instituted in honor of the Virgin by St. Dominic.

Watering Plants.

The successful way for the city dweller to water plants is to put them in the bath tub and pour a quantity of water over them. They should be well soaked, especially the under surface of the leaves, for it is there that the insects are found.

AIRPLANE USED TO HUNT SEALS

Winter Aviation Proves of Great Utility Along Newfoundland Coast.

AID TO SEALING INDUSTRY

Airplanes Used to Locate the "Main Patch" as It Drifts Down With Arctic Current—Keeps Communication Open.

St. John's, N. F.—Hunting seals by airplane is the thrilling job that is being performed in Newfoundland this winter by F. Sidney Cotton, Australian aviator.

The seals come down on great pans of ice with the Arctic current to the Newfoundland coast regularly every March, and nearly a dozen specially constructed ships fit out in St. John's, capital port of the island, and proceed to the great fields of ice where the seals swarm by thousands and hundreds of thousands, and the crews of the ships, called "sealers," engage for two or three weeks in a slaughter of the "whitecoats." The ships are loaded, often to the hatches, or even the gunwales, with the pelts of the seals. On reaching St. John's the several inches of fat are removed from the skins and rendered out for the valuable oil. The skins are dressed for leather, often the furs are stuffed and made into imitation seals. The industry has a turnover of millions of dollars.

But the seals do not come all together. There is what is known as "the main patch," which contains the great bulk of the seals. There are minor pans which have broken off, and also carry seals. If the main patch is missed by the ships it may mean loss for the owners and the men. These men sign on only for the hunt, and are paid by a share in the total catch of the ship. Everything, then, is contingent on striking the main patch. This is sometimes missed, and sometimes located.

Where the Airplane Comes In.

It is here that the airplane comes in. Major Cotton's plan is to set out from a base at Botwood, on the mainland, fly over the vast ice fields, with an experienced sealing captain as observer, and locate the main patch and wireless to the ships.

There may be many miles of thick ice between the ships and the main patch. The airplane scouts around and locates channels in the ice. In this way, according to the plan, the great sealing industry of Newfoundland will be made certain and scientific.

Cotton had many difficulties to overcome. In the first place, it meant winter flying. He was told by aviation experts in England that it could not be done. There was the matter of freezing of the radiator, for instance. How was he going to fly in very cold atmosphere without his radiator freezing solid?

Then, how was the plane to take off from the snow? How was he to conquer the gales and snow blizzards of the interior of Newfoundland, not to speak of the ice fields, where many ships had gone down in storm and many hundreds of sealers had perished.

Flying in Newfoundland in the winter means, often, flying in a temperature 20 degrees below zero F. It means being up in storms and blizzards and gales. It means taking off from and landing on deep and uneven snow, often snow banks ten feet deep.

First Achievement.

The first achievement was the discovery of a liquid that obliterated freezing trouble without damaging the engine, and he can now fly in the coldest weather without fear of his radiator freezing. Then he devised a serviceable skid to replace wheels, which are useless in deep snow, and pontoons are useless except in open water. With his skids Cotton can rise from any kind of snow and alight on the roughest and most uneven snow banks. The skids can take the machine safely over ditches, or even logs. A small skid for the tail keeps the airplane completely out of the snow, as both fore and aft skids sink only a few inches into even the softest snow.

Cotton has two hangars and a couple of canvas sheds, stationed at various points. One canvas tent has been placed at St. Anthony, away down by the Straits of Belle Isle, by the Labrador coast. There is a hangar at Botwood, midway between the north and south of the country, and one at St. John's. At that, there are not half enough hangars, as all of the interior of the country is uninhabited and exposed to the rigors of winter. A crash there means to be marooned perhaps for weeks, unless it be near the transatlantic railway.

The right kind of airplane mechanics have to be brought out from England. In some instances, after paying all expenses, Cotton has found the man unfit for work. The hardy, dare devil type of pioneer mechanic is the type needed for winter flying in Newfoundland, and he is hard to get.

Neither the insurance companies nor the government will insure Cotton's machines, so that if a machine crashes the loss falls entirely on himself.

Bridging Ice Barriers.

Cotton and his companion in flying, Capt. V. S. Bennett, son of the Newfoundland statesman of that name, have been proving the practicability and usefulness of the airplane in many interesting ways. Their idea is to force the government and people to see that not only is aviation useful to Newfoundland, but that the future development of Newfoundland depends upon aviation.

Bell Island, the iron-producing rock in Conception bay, was cut off from the mainland for days by an ice blockade in the bay. The ice was too thin to bear man or horse, and too thick to allow a boat to get through it. For three days the thousands of miners there had been without mails or newspapers. Cotton loaded up his machine with St. John's newspapers and in a very few minutes had dropped them in the public square on Bell Island, and then circled around and saw the men rush for them and open and read them. This greatly impressed the authorities.

Some steamers were frozen in the ice off the coast some miles from St. John's, it being an unusually hard winter in Newfoundland. They, also, had been without newspapers or mails. Cotton repeated his stunt and dropped newspapers onto the decks of the steamers, and the passengers were able to read the afternoon papers almost as quickly as citizens of St. John's did. Delivery of newspapers has been made in many places around the shore.

An Object Lesson.

The Norwegian manager of a paper company at Alexander Bay wanted to get down to the plant from St. John's. The cross-country train was snowed in somewhere near the line. Cotton took Blakstad, the manager, to his place in an hour and three-quarters, at the same time dropping newspapers on the passengers in the marooned train. Among the train passengers was W. P. Coaker, minister of marine and fisheries, who had refused to be taken by plane to Port Union, headquarters of the Fishermen's Union of Newfoundland. He was on the "bogged" train for three days.

The machines being used by Major Cotton are a Martinsyde, with a 275 Faison Rolls-Royce engine, and a DH-9. The former is the same type used by the first men to come to Newfoundland in connection with the transatlantic flight. Both machines have a very quick take-off and land very slowly. Then there is a Westland limousine, with a 450 Napier engine, particularly useful in case of crash, as the aviators can live in the cabin in comparative comfort. Concentrated food for a month for two, snowshoes, blankets, etc., are always carried in each machine. Neither of these machines is suitable for the conditions of the country, however, and on his return to England Cotton will have some specially designed for the work, putting into them everything that he has learned while here.

Aviators in all parts of the world are watching with a great deal of interest Cotton's activities in winter flying in Newfoundland.

Long Suffering.

Scientists say that this old world of ours hasn't varied more than a second or two since recorded in making its annual trip around the sun. Considering the trouble and turmoil it has carried along, the record is remarkable.

REFUSE GERMAN STATES OATH

Several Public Officials of Federated States Scorn Allegiance to Republican Constitution.

Berlin.—Public officials in some of the federated German states have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republican constitution on the ground they owed allegiance only to their own state.

The point of law evoked lively discussion, particularly in Bavaria, where respect for the present German regime is not deeply grounded. Legal suits were brought in two cases for reinstatement of the officials whose offices had been declared vacant on account of their nonconstitutional attitude.

One court ruled the oath was unnecessary, but a higher court reversed the decision.

Self-Penalized.

The principal looked at me rather curiously and then said: "I didn't catch you."—Chicago Journal.

APPERSON MOTOR CARS

A FINE motor car is not developed in a single season. Advanced engineering sometimes creates a design like the Apperson "eight with eighty less parts," so correct mechanically that only detail improvements are possible. VICTORY FOR NON-POOLERS

Jury in County Court at Utica Rules That Dealers Must Not Discriminate Against Non-Poolers in Prices Paid for Fluid Milk.

Utica, June 16. — The first real victory of the non-poolers, now organized into the Non-pooling Dairyman's Cooperative association, was gained in county court here on Thursday when William S. Crossman, a farmer of Deerfield, won a verdict of $524.74 for 13,859 pounds of milk sold to Carlo Grazzadei of Utica. Mr. Crossman charged discrimination against him as a "non-pooler"—or as a non-member of the Dairyman's League Cooperative association, Inc.—charging that he was offered considerably less for his milk than was paid to the league for members' milk.

Willard R. Pratt, attorney for Crossman, said he was elated at the victory and prophesied that it may bring about a whole series of similar suits, some of which are already pending, and the probable return of thousands of dollars to non-poolers.

The court was all in a hubbub throughout the day. A well-filled court room held several Dairyman's League officials and many farmers and others interested in the great milk war. Figures in pagefolds were presented in evidence. Schedules with their endless numbers and totals were introduced. Differentials and hundreds of complications entering into the manner of arriving at the monthly price per hundred for milk were flung about carelessly, mostly by Mr. Pratt, who seemed, it was generally agreed, to be about the only one that knew anything about the matter.

The jurymen looked at each other at the flood of complexities. Judge Frederick H. Hazard was quite frank in his charge to the jury in his statement that he understood very little of the schedules on milk prices, and that he was leaving it to the jury to ponder over them. His charge was unusually brief.

Asked to charge the jury that the defendant had no right to pay less to a non-pooler for milk than he paid to a pooler, the court declared:

"He would receive no more, no less, than the Dairyman's League members."

HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY

Celebrated by Presbyterian Church at Laurens This Week—Address by Dean Vichert of Colgate University on Tuesday Evening the Outstanding Feature.

The Presbyterian church at Laurens celebrated its one hundredth anniversary on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week and with fitting exercises Sunday evening the program consisted of a Children's Day program presided over by the children of the Sunday school.

On Monday evening an excellent dinner was served by the ladies of the church, which was followed by a musical program which all enjoyed. Among the features of the evening was a vocal solo rendered by Miss Alice Richardson and an organ recital with two vocal solos by William Thorpe of Northampton, Mass.

Thorpe is a young man with a bright future. He is a graduate of Williams college and a post graduate of Harvard university with the A. M. degree. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity. He has been engaged for the coming year as an instructor at Smith college. His part of the program was keenly enjoyed. Mr. Thorpe is a nephew of Mrs. Christina Gray of Laurens. Rev. F. J. Fitch, pastor of the church, gave an interesting historical address and the Junior choir of the church delighted all present with their inspiring music.

The anniversary exercises closed on Tuesday evening with a most eloquent inspirational address by Rev. John R. Vichert, D. D., dean of Colgate university.

Dr. Vichert's subject was "The Community's Best Asset." Dean Vichert is an able speaker and he gave his audience much for sober thought and reflection, these days. He declared the church to be the greatest asset of any community. The best people of the community belong to and support it and are inspired to best efforts by her teachings and truly unfortunate is any community without the church. The community with an active church produces the best and most useful citizens to the society and the world at large. The address made a fitting climax to the anniversary exercises.

A NOVEL DEMONSTRATION

State College Truck to Show Delaware Farmers How Every Home May Have Running Water.

How every farmhouse may have running water in the kitchen, is the message which a novel demonstration, to be sent out from the state college of agriculture, will carry to two communities in Delaware county on July 7th and 8th, according to an announcement made by County Agent Brougham. The schedule of places for the meetings in this county will be announced soon.

This project is not wholly new, as a similar demonstration went on tour the summer of 1920. While it was considered most successful, it was not so successful on account of a shortage of help at the college. In the meantime, the members of the department of rural engineering have added some new features, and the methods of erecting the equipment have been simplified. Now it is felt that the demonstration is even better arranged, not only for instruction purposes, but also for rapid setting up and taking down, than it was in 1920.

The demonstration will be staged under the auspices of the County farm and home bureau. The successful steps in the demonstration are so worked out as to indicate clearly the possibility of the starting in a small way with the simplest equipment, and adding improvements from time to time without discarding any of the equipment already installed.

The first step in setting up the demonstration is the erection of an upright panel and narrow floor to represent the sidewalk and the floor of a kitchen. Then a sink and simple pitcher pump are installed. When this has been demonstrated, a force pump is substituted for the other and an overhead storage tank is shown. The last step in most of the demonstrations will be the installation of a hot water front such as is used in a kitchen stove, and connections made to a tank. Where it seems advisable, the manner of putting in an indoor toilet may also be shown.

TITHERS TO MEET AT SIDNEY

For a Seven Day Conference Upon Phases of the Work—Dates are July 17 to 23—Bishop J. P. Berry Expected to Preside.

Notables in the Wyoming Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church and prominent men from outside, including Bishop Joseph P. Berry, are expected to attend the Storehouse Tithers' convention at Sidney, July 17 to 23.

While the program committee is headed by the Rev. Dr. George S. Connell, M. E. pastor at Waverly, a church known far and wide for its success with the stewardship plan—many of the arrangements are in charge of Rev. Dr. James A. Hensley, superintendent of the Binghamton district and his associates in the stewardship work. A week of discussions by competent authorities is set for the big Grove at Sidney, where Epworth league institutes are held each summer. The institute will be held during August.

The Conference commission on stewardship is giving the convention full backing. It consists of the following pastors:

Binghamton—Wesley I. Andrews, Central M. E. church, Endicott; Fred O. Chauncey, Fairview M. E. city; Ferris D. Cornell, High street M. E. city; Alfred R. Burke, Chenango Street M. E. city; George R. Savage, Sayre, Pa.

Scranton—William S. Crandall, Charles M. Olmstead, Joseph M. M. Gray, William H. Hiller, William E. Webster.

Wilkes-Barre — Judson N. Bailey, John G. Frey, Lester A. Kilpatrick, Louis D. Palmer, David L. MacDonald.

Dr. George M. Bell, district superintendent of Wilkes-Barre, is the chairman. The Rev. Wesley J. Andrews, of Endicott, is chairman. The Rev. Ferris D. Cornell of Binghamton is secretary and the Rev. Adelbert D. Finch of Sidney is treasurer. The executive committee consists of the officers and the district superintendents. Dr. Hensley is a leading authority on tithing and his influence extends outside the conference.

Monday, July 17, will be the time for the delegates to register. They will include tithers of all denominations. Last year one of the notable speakers was the Rev. Lucius E. Ford of the Johnson City Baptist church. He probably will attend again. The theme for each day will be as follows:

Tuesday—"The Scripture and Background of Stewardship."

Wednesday—"The Present Movement."

Thursday—"The Storehouse Organization."

Friday—"The Related Interests."

Saturday—"The Storehouse Campaign."

Sunday—Popular Appeal.

A GOOD TIME AT MERIDALE

Half a Hundred Heads of Departments Guests of F. W. Ayer for Week-End.

The morning trains on the D. & H. yesterday morning brought to Oneonta a half hundred or more of the leading representatives of the widely-known advertising agency of N. W. Ayer & Son, whose main offices are in Philadelphia, but which has branches in New York, Chicago, Cleveland and Boston. A special Pullman from Philadelphia arrived at 9:05 with the leading men of the company from that city and the west; and the 10:35 supplemented these with the jolly and alert New York and Boston men. Cars, buses and currys were present on arrival of both trains and the visitors were quickly conveyed to the Meridale Farms, where they will spend a week-end, which happily combines business and pleasure, with perhaps the larger amount of the latter.

An entertainment feature of the outing of the big fellows was the one and only "Barnum & Bailey" circus, which was scheduled on the big yellow posters for last evening at twilight, "down behind the old cow shed" at Meridale. The bills, on which was lavished the whole amazing vocabulary of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey press agents, supplemented by a few improving hints coined by the slickest advertising men in the Ayer agency, announced 51 star stunts, from which—and from the bill of particulars which came later—it was apparent that every visitor was scheduled to be "doing something" part of the time, and somebody every minute. If the show, which was for the visitors only, came up to the specifications, there was certainly a big time in Old Meridale last night.

The visitors were many of them encumbered with golf sticks and other implements of civilized warfare, from which it appears that there will be plenty of diversion before they "fold their tents like the Arabs" (for the remainder see Longfellow, or any book of quotations.)

Country Town Dental Clinic.

The first dental clinic in New York state to be started by a county health nurse and confined to one town is now being held in the town of Jefferson. The clinic was arranged for by the local Jefferson board of the American Red Cross following a school inspection by the county nurse, Miss Helen Munro, who found in one school alone sixty-eight pupils in need of dental attention.

The clinic is in charge of Dr. Cunningham of Hobart and he has already treated forty-seven cases. It is expected that between twenty-five and thirty more will be treated before it closes.

Portlandville Supper Well Attended.

Portlandville, June 16.—The supper served Wednesday evening by the Ladies Aid society in the Methodist church was well attended and the proceeds were about $35. Numerous auto parties from Oneonta and other nearby places attended, and their patronage is much appreciated. The menu was excellently prepared.

Police Court Notes.

Raymond Crandall, arrested Thursday for non-support, pleaded not guilty in city court yesterday morning and the case was adjourned by Judge Huntington until June 23 at 10 a. m. It is claimed that Crandall failed to support his two children and that they are in danger of becoming public charges.

Harry Brayman needed no other witness than a badly discolored optic when he appeared as the complainant against Charles Sullivan, charged with third degree assault, in city court yesterday morning. Sullivan admitted Brayman's allegations and was fined $5. The men became engaged in a quarrel on Thursday night and Sullivan became aggressive and inflicted a "shiner" upon Brayman. The latter arrested him, and turned him over to Sergeant O'Dell.

Frank DeNegris paid $3 for leaving his car parked without lights for several nights by the D. & H. platform. The car was tagged by Officer Terrell.

Paul Sayko and Kazimer Sencivack, arrested on West Broadway Thursday night by Chief Horton and Officer Terrell for public intoxication, were fined $5 each. The men were staggering along the street and endeavoring to hold each other up when the officers found them.
